

The FCC should not implement any proposal that would lessen Indiana's Telephone Privacy Law protections.

I pay for my phone service and should have the right to privacy - that is afforded to me by Indiana's current law which prohibits individuals and companies from calling me. In the past, I received 10-15 calls per week...now I have the enjoyment of receiving none.